STONY HILL NATURE TRAIL

(1.6 MILES)

BRULE RIVER STATE FOREST

Wisconsin Dept. of Natural Resources
 DIVISION OF FORESTRY

STONY HILL NATURE TRAIL

Welcome to the Stony Hill Nature Trail. The trail is 1.6 miles and takes approximately 1 hour from start to finish. Parts of the trail are steep as it climbs 184 feet to a lookout point at the top with a view of the Brule River Valley. Along the way there will be guides to the natural and cultural history of the Brule River State Forest. At the fork in the trail, follow the trail clockwise up the gradual slope and learn about the area from past to present. For a more strenuous hike, follow the trail counter clockwise and let our guides take you back in time. Either way, take time to rest and learn about one of Wisconsin's first state forests and the river that has been called Mad River, Bois Brule, and the River of Presidents among others.
